

Personal Information

My name is Glen Bonham, my student number is s3415281. I am currently studying for my Bachelor of IT with RMIT university. I have previously gained two trade certificates in separate areas of heavy vehicle repair (truck/plant mechanic). I love many facets of IT mostly the programming and back-end coding side of IT. I have some background knowledge in several coding languages and currently extending that knowledge. I have joined the group Voyage to collaborate and work on our next project together which is a travel application called Voyage.
